

Allen University, nestled in the historic Waverly district of downtown Columbia, South Carolina, is a long-standing pillar of the community. As the #2 HCBU in South Carolina and #22 of HBCUs across the United States by the 2020 College Census ranking of Best HBCUs, Allen University is the gateway to "All That Can Be Imagined."

The University launched two fully online programs in the fall of 2020. The Allen University Online academic tracks include a Bachelor of Science in Criminal Justice and a Bachelor of Arts in Human Services. The two online degree programs add to the University's catalog of nine traditional undergraduate degree programs and one traditional master's programs. The online program is ideal for adult learners but open to all students looking to pursue a degree in the offered areas. While the new programs are exciting, students continue to excel in existing programs, including the Dickerson Green Seminary Master of Divinity program that equips graduates to engage in Christian congregational life and other settings in which the expectation is to think theologically and minister to the spiritual, social, and physical development of all people within a Christian spiritual context.

Extending education beyond the classroom walls, Allen University, has partnered with Savannah River Nuclear Solutions, LLC (SRNS) to sign a memorandum of understanding (MOU) seeking to establish a collaborative endeavor to provide employment and educational opportunities and bridge the gap between academic study and its application in professional practice. The MOU establishes internship opportunities across various disciplines, campus visits from experienced talent recruiters from SRNS to conduct resume-building opportunities, and mock interview sessions. Other corporate partnerships include The Boeing Company and Dominion Energy as Allen University works to restore and repurpose the Good Samaritan-Waverly Hospital] which will hold The Boeing Institute on Civility, which will feature a permanent monument to the Emanuel Nine, The Waverly Wall Museum, and The Dominion Energy Palmetto African American Hall of Fame.

Student-Athletes Allen University joined the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (SIAC) as the newest provisional member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) Division II in 2020. Still the only HBCU in the country to offer a competitive wrestling program, AU Athletics sponsors 13 competitive sports. Alongside our student-athletes, our band program is growing continues to be highlighted in the community. Most recently, it was named "The Golden Jackettes" and "Golden Silk" dance and flag lines were ranked #1 by ESPN as "the undefeated" in HBCU Division II Conferences.

When looking for your launching pad to success, a place where you are more than a number, a place where you are challenged to grow inside, and outside of the classroom, Allen University is the place for you. To learn more about All That Can Be Imagined at Allen University, contact 803-376-5700 or email admissions@allenuniversity.edu.